

Our Commitment to our Mission, Vision and Values

The Baby Fold strongly condemns racism and injustice in all its forms. We are saddened by the pain and frustration in our country, which is now more visible since the tragic killing of George Floyd. These events impact our clients and our community and we are committed to being an ongoing source of support. We are hopeful that through prayer and perseverance, meaningful change can occur. Since 1902, The Baby Fold has been dedicated to healing, helping, and serving children and families of every race. We stand by our commitment to upholding our mission, vision, and values to bless the lives and the futures of those who need us most.

“Do all the good you can, By all the means you can, In all the ways you can, In all the places you can, At all the times you can, To all the people you can, As long as ever you can.”
– John Wesley, Founder of the United Methodist Church
